WE FIT
The Hard To Fit
IN Clothing & Shoes.

It's one of our hobbys to fit people that can't be fitted anywhere else. In order to do this, we are forced to carry a very large stock, by far the largest in this part of the country. It's a great satisfaction and a pleasure to go to a store where you can

Find What You

and then get a fit in it. And more than all to be able to see the price in plain figures, and to KNOW that it is the lowest price to anybody. And still further to know that if you are dissatisfied with your purchase after you get home, your money will be refunded as cheerfully as it was received.

Such a Store is Ours.

ACCUSES TAYLOR.

Wharton Golden Names the Leading Conspirators.

Details of the Plot Laid Bare By One Who Was a Participant in the Scheme.

Frankfort, Ky., March 24.—In all its horrible brutality the alleged conspiracy to assassinate Senator Goebel and other Democratic legislators was laid bare to-day by Wharton Golden, in his testimony before Judge Moore. Golden said he was practically one of the participants in the crime, that he knew the outline of the plans, that he was Caleb Powers' intimate friend, and that he was told in advance what was to happen next day.

"Caleb Powers told me to tell John Hurst, of Harlan county, to send 10 witnesses to Frankfort who were regular mountain feudists," said Golden. The listeners began to crane their necks to hear. He was growing interesting. Colonel Tom Campbell was skillfully leading the examination and drawing out the story.

"The day before the shooting John Powers and I started out of Caleb's office. He stopped and talked with a black-haired man, and I saw him give this man a key. Then Powers said to me: 'Goebel is going to be killed this morning.' I answered: 'That must not be done.' Powers said: 'Don't get excited, I gave that man the wrong key.'"

Intense Interest.

The interest was growing intense. The spectators instinctively leaned forward in their chairs to catch every word of the witness, who talked in a low tone. He seemed about to collapse several times, he was so frail and weak. He volunteered no testimony, seemed loath to answer some of the questions, and hesitated frequently before answering. His answers were always specific, though brief, and made a strong impression.

"On the morning of the shooting I heard Caleb Powers, Treasurer Day, E. J. Howard and Governor Taylor talking. The others were asking Taylor why he didn't call out the militia, and Taylor said: 'You people must act first. The soldiers are all ready and will get out quick enough, but you fellows must do something first.'

This was the climax.

Men in the court room turned and looked at each other in amazement. Caleb Powers' face was a study. He was deadly pale, and his mouth gave a convulsive twitch every few seconds. The scene was growing dramatic. Golden was laboring under suppressed excitement, and would turn and look behind him as if expecting an enemy. He was on the verge of collapse from the nervous strain, and a few moments later, when the direct examination was concluded, he asked permission to retire and lie down, as he was exhausted.

The prosecution had practically closed its case when Golden was taken ill in the court room and when court meets Monday morning the witness will be cross-examined by the attorneys for the defense if he is able to be brought into court. Half a dozen of the defense's witnesses who know small details that will weave the net tighter about the chief conspirators have not been introduced and will not be.

Among the thirty odd witnesses summoned for the defense only about ten are to be introduced in the case. The direct and cross-examination testimony is expected to be brought out. The efforts of the defense will be devoted mainly to refuting the testimony of witness Golden.

No further arrests will be made, so it is relatively safe until the April grand jury has investigated the various documents. The sensational testimony of Golden at the afternoon session of the court started the rumor that warrants would be immediately issued for Taylor, Howard and others mentioned by the witness, but it was quickly quieted. It is understood that Davis and Cullen will waive examination trial after the judge acts in the Powers case.

SPANISH TACTICS.

Taylor's Soldiers Laying a Mine at The Arsenal.

A Lieutenant Buys One Hundred Feet of Fuse For It at a Local Store.

Frankfort, Ky., March 24.—Republican guards in charge of the state arsenal are said to have laid a mine in front of the arsenal connected from inside by wire and which might be touched off in event of attack. The Democratic soldiers were greatly excited this evening when it became known that a Republican military officer had purchased 100 feet of fuse from a local hardware merchant. It developed later that the fuse was to be attached to a mine planted at the arsenal. Trenches were discovered dug outside the arsenal with wire laid in them.

Lieut. Wm. Berkele, of the Taylor guards, bought the fuse at the hardware store of Mr. C. E. Collins, on Broadway, opposite the capitol. The city police are investigating.

TITLE OF GOVERNOR.

Taylor-Beckham Suit Reaches Its Final Stage in Circuit Court.

Louisville, March 24.—The Taylor-Beckham suit, involving title to the governorship, reached its final stage in the Circuit Court to-day. Judge Field entered judgment in accordance with his recent rulings, overruled a motion for a new trial and granted counsel for the Republicans an appeal to the Court of Appeals. The record in the case is made up and will be submitted early next week. A decision from the Court of Appeals is expected within a week or ten days.

WILL PROBATED.

Disposition of Large Estate of Late M. A. Mason.

The will of the late Meriwether A. Mason was admitted to probate Friday. One third of the large estate he bequeathed to his wife, Lula J. Mason, during her natural life. At her death this portion goes to his children. The other two-thirds of the estate was given to his children, the portion going to his daughters to belong and be held by them as their separate estate.

When the youngest child becomes of age it is directed that it final division of the estate shall take place. Mrs. Mason was named as executrix without bond. She has qualified and was immediately appointed guardian of her five children. The instrument was dated Jan. 27, 1893.

DEATH OF MRS. TAYLOR.

After Long Illness Succumbs to Consumption—Esteemed Lady.

Lafayette, Ky., March 23.—The wife of Mr. Edward Taylor, of near Weaver's Store, died of consumption last Wednesday. She had been sick for a long time. Mrs. Taylor was a lady held in the highest esteem by a large circle of friends. She leaves a husband and one child. The interment took place near Bumpus' Mill to-day.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Little Folks Enjoy the Occasion to Fullest Extent.

A birthday party was given by Mrs. Kate Davis Saturday afternoon, complimentary to her little grand-daughter, Zeta Mai Hill, it being the sixth anniversary of her birth. A large number of her little friends were in attendance. Refreshments were served and the little folks enjoyed the occasion to the fullest extent.

Cures All Blood Humors

America's Greatest Spring Medicine.

It is now up to Bill Taylor to clear his skirts or prepare to face a jury. He was in an adjoining room to the one occupied as an ambush by Gov. Goebel's assassin. He protected the criminal from arrest and aided his escape. He has since attempted to assist the accomplices to escape in disguise, armed with money weapons and bogus pardons. These are plain facts upon which there is no dispute. They are crimes apart from other numerous high-handed proceedings of a more or less political nature. Now comes Wharton Golden, who swears he acted as one of Taylor's secret agents to bring assassins to Frankfort, for the avowed purpose of wholesale murder and to act as tools in the conspiracy hatched and executed under the roof that sheltered Taylor. The time has come to lay the heavy hand of the law upon Taylor and take him down from the high perch upon which he is roosting. He should be put in jail before he escapes and kept there until he proves his innocence of the charge brought against him by one of his own trusted followers.

Chairman Allie W. Young has not yet called a meeting of the State Central committee. As the convention to select delegates to Kansas City must be held within ninety days, it is believed that this convention should be held as soon as possible after matters are settled at Frankfort and that a gubernatorial convention, if held, should be late in the summer or early in the fall. Another argument being used in favor of two conventions is that Bryan's endorsement should be by a convention whose delegates would be called together for no other purpose, and the earlier the better.

THE WHEAT CROP.*Acreage Large—Growth Advanced
—Some Damage by Freeze.

In some sections of the country the wheat crop suffered considerably by the recent freeze, where it was not protected by the snow. The growth on the highlands suffered more than that on the bottom land, it seems. In many places the growth was uprooted, thus practically destroying it. Where the crop was protected it looks well and is far advanced for the season. The acreage is probably twenty-five per cent larger than for several years.

In Memory of Mrs. H. E. Loney.

The passing away of this lovely woman has brought deep sorrow to many hearts, not only in this community, but wherever she was known. Mary Hise Norton was the youngest daughter of the late Eckstein Norton, former president of the L. &amp; N. railroad, her mother being Miss Lucy P. Moore, of Christian county, Kentucky. In November, 1897, she was married to Mr. Henry E. Loney, of New York City, and while visiting her mother in Asheville, N. C., she died after a brief illness March 17th. Her sudden death was a great shock to relatives and friends.

Mrs. Loney was of a bright and sunny disposition, her generous heart delighted in acts of kindness and mercy. She had for several years been a member of the Episcopal church, a sincere Christian, who manifested her religion by word and deed, as all who knew her well could testify. The writer of this imperfect sketch gladly bears witness to her many virtues. Our warmest sympathy goes out to the devoted invalid mother, the bereaved husband, the sorrowing brothers and sisters, and the numerous relatives and friends of the loved one. But we "Sorrow not, even as others which have no hope, for we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so shall we also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him."

A Great Show.

Speaking of Sparks' show which exhibits in Hopkinsville Monday afternoon and night, April 2, at the Selma, Ala., Daily News:

"Sparks' railroad shows came to town Sunday and pitched their tent on the old Donaldson lot in John street.

They were greeted by a good audience yesterday and it is not giving them undue praise to say that they gave an exhibition that is first class in every respect. It's a cheap show and a good show; a show that appeals to the impulsive man and compels the earnest connoisseur from the gentlemen of larger incomes.

Sparks has the smallest baby elephant performer in the world and its intelligent actions delight the little folks and excite the wonder and admiration of those of taller stature.

The trapeze work and acrobatic feats would be hard to excel, while the other features of the performance are all deserving of special mention.

The grand double balloon ascension could not be gone through with yesterday, owing to the strength of the breeze that was blowing. Today, however, if the weather permits, the wonderful parachute leap will be made.

This is the last day here and two performances, as on yesterday, will be given. Popular prices will prevail—10 and 20 cents. Go out and see it and take the kids along."

Mr. Martin Stewart, a well-known farmer from the Cerulean Springs neighborhood, died at 11 o'clock Sunday morning of spinal meningitis. He was only ill a few days. He leaves a widow and several children. Deceased was a prominent farmer, a good citizen and will be much missed from that community. The interment took place yesterday afternoon in the Stewart burying ground, not far from Gracey.

Bowling Contests.

An interesting contest between the "We Five" and the "Select Five" took place at Schmitt's bowling alley Thursday night. The "Select Five" were victorious, the total score being 1254 to 2097. A large crowd witnessed the contest.

A Plucky Jailer.

Poultry in East Tennessee.

Years ago the mountain people of east Tennessee, had but one idea industrially, and that was pertaining to coal and iron. Citizens had manifest dreams of what English and eastern capitalists would make out of the mountain fastnesses. They sat down and waited for the time when these should come and turn the "wilderness" into a land flowing with milk and honey. They dreamed of mammoth enterprises, around which encircled cities rivaling New York and London in magnificence.

The people of this section would be dreaming yet of these big enterprises, had they not been a thinking people. They finally managed to reason out that foreign capitalists must not be depended upon, and many turned their attention to something less high sounding. Nothing more than chickens.

For years chickens have been raised in every hollow and knoll of the mountains, without any care. They seem to thrive abundantly. They have sold as low as ten cents apiece, and eggs as low as five cents a dozen, and these mountaineers found that money was to be made in them.

In the beginning a few thousand heads of poultry were shipped to Knoxville and Chattanooga every season, but what reached these points was a fraction compared with the export of today. To figure the market of that day, it would not average a hundred chickens a week, shipped from east Tennessee, and probably not that many.

Some time ago an estimate was made by a local poultryman, on the number of chickens shipped from the poultry territory between Morristown and Greenville. That day the estimate was twenty-five car loads shipped, which represented the accumulated shipment for just one week. These figures are duplicated on every Saturday the year round. Every car is estimated to hold 5,000 chickens making about 125,000 in all.

This territory, it must be understood, is only a fractional part of the poultry raising section of east Tennessee.

The majority of the chickens are shipped to New York and Washington, and what is known as "chicken cars." But first the "chicken wagon" has to be considered. The "chicken wagon" is a canvas covered wagon, drawn by a lean mountainer, who goes from house to house throughout the mountains and collects poultry and eggs. The chickens are hauled to a shipping point, where the car is in readiness. They are fastened in coops, which are piled from the bottom to the top of the car, leaving a space in the center, where the attendant, a young mountain boy, stays.

Poultry is not only shipped from east Tennessee to New York and Washington, but to various parts of the United States, Central America, and Cuba.

East Tennessee is practically the only poultry raising district that sends poultry and eggs to Cuba. J. F. Murray, of Knoxville, ships on an average of five car loads of poultry a week to his father in Havana, where they bring good prices.

The price in the states varies from 10 to 12 cents a pound. Last spring frying chickens sold for 25 cents a pound. Then the farmers' wives made money.

As each car holds 5000 chickens, and the chickens average two pounds each, it can be seen that each car represents according to the prices given as paid for chickens, from $1000 to $2000.

"That beats waiting for capitalists doesn't it?" said one raiser of poultry.

Poultry raising seems to have

The stomach is a churning organ. In the stomach and digestive tract processes which are exactly akin to the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach is "sour" it sounds which will not go out of it. The sour stomach is not the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of the blood and the dissemination of disease through the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a powerful stomach sweet. It does for the sour stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant and no narcotic.

Taylor's "Brow Shuckles."

Taylor speaks in his proclamation of striking the "shuckles" from the brow of the lowly white man. He evidently meant that it was his desire to strike the shackles from the legs of those unfortunate brethren who are entangled in Bob Franklin's bear trap—Kentucky Democrat.

Cures Your Cough.

It Can Be Done With Dr. Otto's Spruce Gum Balsam.

Mrs. A. Kerner, a Lady 70 Years of Age,

Gives Her Experience.

"I am 70 years of age and have had a cough that has kept me awake at night for the past 10 years. I have tried every remedy known to man, but nothing would quiet it. I could not sleep, causing me to become very weak. I was told by my doctor to go to the country, but I did not like the idea of not being able to go to the city for medical advice. Finally, my doctor recommended Dr. Otto's Spruce Gum Balsam. It is a wonderful medicine. It seemed to stop the cough almost immediately. I slept well and was soon feeling much better. I still take it every day and have not had a cough since. If there ever was a cough medicine, this is it."

John G. ALEXANDER,

Mr. John G. Alexander is still taking Dr. Otto's Spruce Gum Balsam when troubled with a cough.

The above was in 1897. Mrs. A. Kerner is still taking Dr. Otto's Spruce Gum Balsam when troubled with a cough.
